Take Care of Lindbergh
A Brain Pantheon
Cosima's Brown Hair
Mind, Matter, Glassy Eyes
By Arthur Brisbane

Copyright, 1927, by Star Co.
COLONEL LINDBERGH will soon fly over mountain peaks in Guatemala, starting long flights in his one-engine plane, over tropical regions in Central America. In spite of his skill and courage he runs GREAT RISKS.

Lindbergh's life is too valuable to be stalked repeatedly on what, at best, is dangerous flying. It was unnecessary to risk a non-stop flight from Washington, D. C., to Mexico City. A flight with rest and refueling would have answered the purpose.

Everybody knows what Lindbergh can do. It is not necessary for him to incur repeatedly risks as great as when he flew the Atlantic.

And Lindbergh should fly a machine with three motors instead of one. His personal safety is more important than promoting any particular engine or the financial interests of any group.

There should be some way of emphasizing that.

The old-fashioned "Pantheon," meaning "all the gods," contained modeling of great men with their clothes on.

Russia's new Pantheon of intelligence will contain only the busts of eminent men, kept in glass bowls for study, with gold plates telling who owned the brain, what it did.

Professor Babbarer, Russian psychologist, now dead, established the Pantheon and left his brain to H. Chappin, Russian singer, who with his brain to the institution.

Future ages will study today's primitive brains with interest, and perhaps read the meaning of their convolutions. Our best microscopes cannot tell us why Babbarer's brain studied psychology, why Chappin's singer, Lindbergh's flies and Coolidge's "doesn't choose."

Fraa Cosima Wagner, widow of the great musician, daughter of Liszt, celebrates her nine-tenth birthday with friends and memories. When Richard Wagner died Fraa Cosima cut off her beautiful brown hair, falling below her waist, and put it under the pillow in her husband's coffin. Before "the boy" that meant sacrifice.

Later were published letters of the temperamental Richard written to other ladies.

For a while, perhaps, Fraa Cosima regretted the long brown hair.

"LYNCH HIM!" CRIES MOB AS HICKMAN IS JAILED

NO TRACE OF LOST 'DAWN'

The eyes of the United States Navy, searching from the air and from the sea, found no trace today of the amphibian plane "Dawn," missing three days with Mrs. Frances Grayson and three men aboard.

After an all night flight from Lakelurest, N. J., which brought her just before dawn to the tip of Cape Cod, the plane turns to Page 1, Column 1.

25 ROUTED BY FIRE

A two-alarm fire in the brick apartment house No. 391 Washington street, West Newton, today drove 25 persons scantly clad to the street, including two elderly women, who were carried out in blankets by firemen.

The building, housing 12 families, is occupied on the street floor by Cochran's Market, Jarro's Department Store and Weaver's Hardware. Please turn to Page 2, Column 4.

'Aw, Let 'Em Hang Me!' Cries Girl's Slayer in Jail

Photo shows Hickman, confessed kidnaper and murderer of the little Los Angeles girl. In his complete confession of the crime, he described all the revolting details of how he backed up the child's body, then powdered the little girl's face and combed her hair. He cried today: "Aw, let 'em hang me if they wish, but why should they?"

'RESIGN,' IS DEMAND ON WILBUR IN $4 CRASH

New York, Dec. 27 (A.P.)—Resign, is the demand on Wilbur in $4 crash. The 84 disaster off production sensitive Louisa M. Wilbur, 72, Dem. called upon Charles D. Wilbur today, agent, author of a resolution asking for a Congressional investigation of the crash.

HEAVY GUARD ESCORTS PRISONER WITH PISTOL EXPERTS IN FAST CARS

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 27.—"Lynch him! Lynch him!" Cries him back to us! The shouts of an infuriated mob of 4,000 persons filled the streets of Los Angeles today as a prisoner was escorted to the Los Angeles County Jail. The prisoner, a man named Parker, was literally dragged through a sea of armed police today into the Hall of Justice, on the top floor of which the Los Angeles County Jail is located.

Terror-stricken by the fury of the mob, Hickman, his face ashen white, was pulled by the manacles of his two powerful bodyguards through the double doors of the building so hard that it seemed to outsiders his arms must have been dislocated. The man back into the swirling mob of humanity that crowded toward the captive.

GEDZIUM SENTENCED TO DIE WEEK OF FEB. 26

Jerry Gedzium, alias "Jerry the Pole," must die in the electric chair during the week beginning February 26. The sentence to death—a stirring sentence to the World Holding Company, which holds the rights to the name "Jerry the Pole"—was delivered by Judge David A. Loring at a special session of Middlesex Superior Court today after a four-minute attempt to stay its passing had failed.

OIL MAN ON STAND IN MEXICAN INQUIRY

Washington, Dec. 27 (A.P.)—The Senate's investigation into the authenticity of the Mexican documents published in the last week's papers was resumed today with Frank J. McLaughlin, an American oil man who has spent most of the last seven years in Mexico City. McLaughlin identified himself as a structural engineer who went to Mexico in 1920, later becoming identified with the El Estero Petroleum Company as a director and vice-president. He said he had many "personal relations" with Mexican officials.

The witness caused a mild sensation in the committee room when he testified that Miguel Aycin, the American-born Mexican who sold the documents to the Hearst papers, was also chairman of the finance committee, which post also had been filled by Mr. Gary. James A. Farrell continues as president.

HEAVY GUARD CALLED OUT FOR SLAYER IN LOS ANGELES

ed at the Southern Pacific station at Glendale, eight miles north of here, when it was reported Hickman would be taken off the train there and rushed into Los Angeles by automobile.

SWITCH IN PLANS

Right of the killing crowd caused District Attorney Asa Keyes to abandon that plan and he gave orders for the train to proceed to Los Angeles.

The Southern Pacific right of way passes within a few blocks of the Lincoln Heights Jail at a point between Glendale and the Arroyo station in downtown Los Angeles. This fact gave rise to reports that Hickman would be removed to the Lincoln Heights city stockade.

Here inside the county jail Hickman was escorted by Police Chief James Davis, aided by one of the stout patrolmen in the West.

The manner of taking the prisoner off the train in the heart of the city and within a few blocks of the county jail caught Los Angeles citizens napping.

Within two hours after his arrival Hickman was in Superior Court before Judge Charles Hardy, who continued the case until 2 p. m. Thursday. Last Summer Judge Hardy occupied the bench when Hickman's application for protection on a forgery charge was granted.

The case started, according to fire officials, upon a wooden receptacle in a closet of the Albert Folsom apartment on the third floor took fire from below. It started to burn down the second floor and for a time threatened to eat off the narrow stairway leading to the street.

John E. Moore, brother of Albert, observed the fire when smoke poured from the window. He called his brother, Mrs. Albert Folsom and three children, and they rushed to the scene.

Mr. and Mrs. Winifred McCombey gathered their seven children and moved to the second floor, where they were joined by Mrs. Henry J. Langhlin, in an apartment directly over the store, also fled and Lawrence Howland while carrying his mother down the stairway rushed a child victim ahead of him through the dense smoke.

When Chief Clarence W. Randlett arrived he ordered a second alarm. The building is owned by M. J. Barron, proprietor of the store.

Four Escape From Blaze in Winchester; Hurt and Hurt
One fireman was driven to the street by a heavy early today, when fire broke out from an unknown cause, in the walls of the Howe Bros. store, Walnut street, Winchester.

Fireman John Flaherty of the Central station finished his right leg when he fell from a wall he tried to enter the house. Mr. and Mrs. Ward, their daughter and a woman friend fled to the street, choking with smoke.

Fire officials could not determine the cause of the blaze until investigation was completed.

Infant Is Carried Out in Lyn Mystery Fire
A ten-day-old infant was rescued and its mother, Mrs. Grace Hamilton, rushed her way upstairs to the street when the fire broke out today in the basement of her home in Park avenue, Lynn. The blaze, starting from a pile of rubbish, filled the house with smoke, which penetrated to the second floor, where Mrs. Hamilton was in bed with the child. Mrs. Ida Atkinson discovered the fire and carried the baby to her own home.

"Moxie," Wollaston Golf Club Mascot, Saves 2 Lives

Two persons owe their lives to "Moxie," shepherd dog mascot of the Wollaston Golf Club, following a fire in the clubhouse today.

The barking of the dog, favorite of golfers, awakened Mrs. Sarah Gray and her son, and Andrew F. Sherman, janitor.

Firmen responding to the alarm were obliged to lay 1,600 feet of hose to reach the burning structure.

The quick discovery kept the damage down to $150 when firemen managed to keep the flames confined to the club workroom.

Five automobiles, all loaded with armed detectives, including the nation's reserved for Hickman and his manacled guards, pulled up along side the "Moxie." "Travell," the prison car, and the prisoner was hurried into the waiting machine.

Driving in the same auto with Hickman was Police Chief James Davis, aided by one of the stout patrolmen in the West.

The manner of taking the prisoner off the train in the heart of the city and within a few blocks of the county jail caught Los Angeles citizens napping.

QUIT! IS DEMAND ON WILBUR IN $4 CRASH

retaining Wilbur with failure to maintain the navy at its proper standard of efficiency and with lack of necessary aggressiveness to obtain adequate financial support from an "economy" administration.

Wilbur permitted the $4 to operate in a sense that did not constitute a long series of disasters, Black "Economy" declared the Navy should, therefore, have restricted submarine operations of the availability of relief forces.

The destruction of the $4 climaxed a long series of disasters and general breakdown. Wilbur, as head of the Navy, must accept culpability for conditions.

Find No Bodies as Wreckage Is Cleared From Sunk Ship
Provincetown, Dec. 27.—Wreckage from the destroyer Paulding was cleared from the sunken submarine $4 by seven divers, working in relays, today. None of the bodies of the 40 enlisted navy men was discovered when sections of keel and plates from the destroyer were removed from the hole in the $4.

The removal of the wreckage greatly facilitated the work of the divers and good progress on the second tunnel beneath the $4, about the gun, was made. This will be completed by tomorrow night if the weather holds favorable. The theory of the crash will then determine whether it is necessary to tunnel for a third cable beneath her keel.

It is the intention now of salvage officers to seal and pump out the boat with compressed air. Commander Harold E. Standen, who will supervise this phase of the work, said today that the $4 was sunk in a sudden collision with the submarine submarine tonight and that a course of action with the divers.

Two large sails, lettered "This way forward" and "This way aft," were sunk from the Paulding today and attached to the $4's deck, adding the work of divers who lost their sense of direction in the low visibility on the ocean floor. The Paulding has fixed permanent moorings, and divers will continue work on the $4 in heavy weather until a cessation of the work.

ARRAIGN TOWN OFFICIALS IN BOOTLEG BRIBERY CASE
Springfield, Dec. 27 (A.P.)—Four or five Ludlow town officials, arrested last week by State police following fifteen indictments charging conspiracy in accepting bribes, were arraigned in Superior Court today and entered pleas of not guilty. No trial date has been set. Each was released on the bail of $2,000.

Those arraigned were Chairman Thomas J. Hayes, a vice-president of the board of selectmen, and Flynn of the board of selectmen, Highway Surveyor Ashley N. Boucher, and three others. They are to protect bootlegging operations, it is charged.

FOUR OVERCOME IN FACTORY GAS LEAK
Worcester, Dec. 27 (A.P.)—Harold O. Moore, a vice-president of the F. O. Moore Company, manufacturer, and three others, were overcome in the factory today when gas escaped from a main found its way from the highway, through a culvert into the upper floor of the plant.

The others overcome were Miss Elizabeth Banks, clerk; George Jackson, assistant to Mr. Moore; and Tony De Quinzani, a factory worker.

U. S. Lets Mexico Buy Plane Used by Lindy's 'Ma'
Washington, Dec. 27 (A.P.)—The State Department today granted a license to the Mexican government to purchase the Ford plane in which Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh flew from Detroit to Mexico City.

An announcement that the State Department was considering lifting of the munitions embargo came from the White House. It was said at the department that the license would be granted after a hearing, but that while there was no present intention to wipe out the embargo entirely each application for purchase of arms or other munitions in the United States would be considered and acted upon individually.

The greater need of Jewish religious education and the further need of housing facilities for such students today as of paramount importance by rabbi and religious school teachers at the closing session of their convention in Temple Ohabei Shalom, Beacon street.

For the first time in New England this convention was held under the auspices of the Department of Hygiene and School Extension of the United States Government. Dr. Emanuel Gamoran of Cincinnati, delegate to this conference, led the Boston movement, to which assembled rabbi of temples in New England and Sunday school teachers, to discuss problems and the general subject of Jewish education.

Talks reports given over to five-minute experience talks by delegates were held under the presiding presence of Rabbi Abraham Feiman of Hartford, Ct.

Prominent in the activities were Rabbi Harry Levi of Temple Israel, Boston; Miss Marjorie Kanten of Temple Ohabei Shalom, Beacon street; Mrs. Elizabeth Goodman, Boston; Mrs. Henry Kaplan, Pittsfield, and Mrs. Rosa Lewis, Boston.

3 IN 'HICKMAN ROLE' TIE BOY
Washington, Dec. 27 (A.P.)—Police today were investigating activities of three 15-year-old youths who seized Elmer Nash, 12, on his way home from a store, gagged him with a necktie, trussed his legs and carried him to the police station. The boy was taken to the Grand Jury in bonds of $1,000 after a hearing in Roxbury court on a Christmas fraud at his address.

Ernest J. Kelly of Worcester, South End, next victim of a well shot, told the court that he was visiting his father-in-law at the Hampden street home and attempted to help Elmer Nash when he noticed him being dragged. The shot for jewelry, he said, narrowly missing his arm.

GEDIZIUM, SENTENCED TO DIE, DECLARES HE'S INNOCENT

"Have you anything to say before sentence is passed upon you?"

Slowly Gedizium rose to his feet in the dock while all eyes in the throng sought his face. Small in stature, the prison paler of his features like marble against the black of his close-cropped hair, "Jerry the Pole" was for once an imposing figure.

And his voice, when he spoke in even, quiet tones—as though he had rehearsed many times what he planned to say—fell on every ear.

"Your honor," he began, "I am not guilty of this crime, nor do I know who did, nor anything at all about it. I hope some one of these days the real culprits will be found out."

He paused then, "I am entirely innocent. That is all I have to say."

He held both hands in his coat pockets as he spoke as if he were small boy speaking his first plea he found him in the way.

As Gedizium concluded, still standing, Judge Lourie imposed the sentence of death.

A brief hearing before Justice Pierce of the Supreme Court on a petition for a writ to prohibit Justice Pierce passing the sentence preceded the special session of the Mid district Court. Following Justice Pierce's refusal to issue a writ, the special session convened and District Attorney Robert T. Bunnell moved for immediate execution.

MAN CRUSHED BY AUTO
CRASHING THROUGH A garage wall when his auto in great started as he cranked it, Roland K. Mansfield, Jr., Stoughton police officer and son of the police chief, today received a broken and badly crushed left leg. His screams attracted the attention of his father and Aubrey Mills, a brother-in-law. They rushed to his assistance and carried him to the home of Dr. Myron H. Davis. A dozen claphounds were torn out with other timbers when the accident happened.

IN 2 MONTHS HE MUST DIE
The sentence of death was pronounced today on Jerry Gedizium, alias "Jerry the Pole," for the murder of a woman in the Ward Bakery holdup.

Slayer's Victim and His Own Family

This Is Hickmar Himself

CRIME SHOCKS PARENT

Thomas Hickman was shocked when he heard that his son was held for the Los Angeles murder. The boy has since confessed to slaying little Marion Parker. "Let him hang, if he's guilty of such a crime," said his father.

MARION PARKER

VICTIM OF SLAYER AND TWIN SISTER

William Edward Hickman's second confession admits he alone was responsible for the kidnaping, slaying and mutilation of 12-year-old Los Angeles school girl, the slaying, he says, being due to an "irresistible impulse" that he had had from childhood to kill a human being and cut up the body.

$250,000 HUB SURPLUS MAY CUT TAXES

The city government will close its books Saturday with a surplus of at least $250,000 and possibly as much as $300,000. It was estimated at City Hall today.

The surplus will be cast into next year's budget and will modify the present $20 tax rate, when announced early in August.

The surplus came from increased revenues in State income and corporation taxes, unexpended balances of municipal department, and collection of back taxes. Additional revenues are probably from Suffolk County offices.

This saving is due to District Attorney William J. Foley cutting jury and witness fees, having put into effect a system of quickly disposing of cases. The lack of most added considerably to the surplus. The only department to show a deficit is Overseers of Public Welfare in the amount of $15,000.

FORMER TREASURER GETS ONE YEAR; ANOTHER FINED

Portland, Me., Dec. 27 (A.P.)—Robert S. Thomas, former treasurer of Parker & Thomas Company, bankrupt wholesale dry goods dealers, was sentenced to prison today for one to two years for embezzlement of $22,000.

George W. Pennell, another former treasurer, was fined $100, which was paid, for embezzlement of $4,750. Both had pleaded guilty.

Anthony Gino, thirty-two, was found dead in bed today in his room in a lodging house in Lowell street, East Boston, with gas escaping from a wall jet.

Jail Party Is Held by Doomed Chorus Girl

Montreal, Dec. 27 (U.S.S.)—Following the gay Christmas Day party in the Pullman street women's jail, where the condemned Doris McDonald, ex-chorus girl who awaits the gallows, acted as business attorney for the young woman and her husband conferred on appeal measures today.

The husband also participated in a Christmas day party when he entertained the word of death row and the governor of the jail at a private celebration.

Mrs. McDonald, who was convicted with her husband of murdering Melburn Blanchard, a taxi driver, had as her guests the men who give their services to the jail. The young woman, in deference to her fate, enthusiastically trimmed the Christmas tree in the jail corridor. Each of the men home a little present on the tree for the girl.

BOSTON AMERICAN

BOSTON, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1927

BUILDING IN HUB TO BE BIGGEST IN WORLD

The bluest building in the world will rear its massive height and breadth in the Park square district of Boston within a year—a $20,000,000 enterprise, providing positions for 10,000 men in the building process.

Men of prominence in many walks of life in Boston are joined in the belief that the building of the New England Building, the first woman of her kind, will be the greatest achievement of the city in its history.

The building, which will be a 25-story, 200,000-sq-ft structure, will be situated on land bounded by Stuart street, Berkeley street and St. James avenue.

It is a direct result of the rapidly increasing population of Boston, which is now only three other American cities, New York, Chicago and Philadelphia.

Announcement of the colossal structure was made by the New England Department Store, Inc. This concern, which has planned the building, will conduct a large store in part of the structure. The fundamental idea is to make of the building a home shopping center.

Regarding the structure Mayor Nichols said:

"Such a building would greatly enhance the district. It's a fine idea. All such additions indicate growth and progress. I believe in higher building wherever practicable. I recently spent several days studying the building plans in New York. While I realize that similar laws could not be enforced in Boston because of different conditions, I feel that benefits may be derived from the plan."

EX-FIRST LADY GETS LICENSE TO MARRY

Mrs. Dorothy Woodman Parkhurst, widow of Frederick H. Parkhurst, former Governor of Maine, and Cyrus Dimitri Connors, Boston University medical student, today received their marriage license at City Hall.

Plans for the wedding of the former first lady, now a Boston Hill housewife, and the Greek student five years her junior were still kept secret as they obtained the coveted paper.

Mrs. Parkhurst, at her home, No. 10 Myrtle street, Boston Hill, was reported "out for the day" by a maid and Connors, away on leave from his studies, was in a room at a Stuart street cafe where he worked in his off time to earn his way through his course.

Mrs. Parkhurst is a widow of more than seven years, the Governor having died January 31, 1921, soon after his inauguration.

Friends of the student said he devoted plans for a honeymoon trip to the Pacific coast, returning in a few weeks to complete his studies.

Mrs. Parkhurst gave her age as 35 and Connors 30 when the license was filed last week.

This illustration shows the New England Building, Inc., the largest building in the world, as it will appear when completed—as proposed.

CHINESE WIFE, MOTHER OF 12, IS SHOPLIFTER

Mrs. Chin Moy, of Harvard street, Charlestown, the first woman of her race to appear on such a charge, who it was testified used her year-old child to assist her in stealing, was arraigned for shoplifting in Municipal Court today.

Mrs. Moy pleaded guilty, and because she is the mother of 12 children, and has no previous record, Judge Parmenter placed her on probation.

Her husband, a hawkerman, was in court with the woman, together with the daughter Elaine, who was called to the bench by Judge Parmenter during the hearing.

Special Officer Wyand and Store Detective Tolson testified that they trailed Mrs. Moy through a downtown store. They testified she would handle articles on the counters, and when she thought no one was looking, would drop one. Elaine would then retrieve the article and put it into a bag which she carried.

Mrs. Moy was charged with the larceny of a pair of shoes, 4 pairs of gloves, 8 pairs of stockings and a bag all valued at $44.

BETTY ALDEN ANNOUNCES ELABORATE PLANS FOR HUNT PARTY, JAN. 14

Henry G. Vaughan, Popular M. F. H. of Norfolk, to Be Given Big Jollification on Return

WHEN THE NORFOLK HUNT SET GETS TOGETHER FOR A jollification the affair is unquestionably a jollification without a peer. They are giving a party on January 14 that is to be a triumph in every way. Its inspirational features are several and quite sufficient to motivate any party to enormous success. The Norfolk people are staging a "welcome" to their beloved and distinguished "Master," Henry G. Vaughan. It's a welcome that marks another milestone in his more than a quarter century as M. F. H., a record not equaled by any other in the country.

PRIMARILY IT'S A ROUSING "welcome" to Mr. Vaughan on his return to health and activity following a severe accident in the hunting field. The combination of a startled moment and a slippery bit of footing brought to even so experienced a horseman as Mr. Vaughan a nasty fall, the very first (and happily the last) of his many years in the saddle. However, he is as well as ever again and hence the party. And it is both the jolliest and most delightful affair ever to go on within the Norfolk Hunt Clubhouse, then that sports aggregation has lost its fitness for such affairs—a state of things quite unbelievable.

SOME "CONGENIAL" spirits, headed by Edward Hutchinson, observed the Christmas holidays on family, as is the way, and very soon now entrain for the North and New Year's at Quebec celebrate the day. They have reservations at the Chateau Frontenac, right in the very center of affairs, social and sporting, as quiet old Quebec sets the stage to amuse the visitor within her gates. Mr. Hutchinson party includes other well-known young men of the elite—Ole Russell and Merrill Griswold among them. Quebec at New Year's has much to offer this young set.

INTERMITTENTLY DO THE MYOPIANS RIDE TO HOUNDS. Now that Jack Frost has definitely set up his shoddy hereabouts. Their Christmas week-end run was perfectly done, beneath a clear sky and with a merry company about. More or less intermittently also do they celebrate within doors—but the New Year's dance is an annual festivity. Your true, dyed-in-the-scarlet Myopian never misses this festive welcome to the New Year and farewell to the Old. He, and she, as well, never stays far from the Hamilton region when special days are to be celebrated in the very special Myopian way.

DEBUTANTE AFFAIRS IN THE CAPITAL BRING A LONG distance interest to certain Bostonians highly placed, since Mrs. Walter Bruce Howe, so widely known in Boston's upper strata, a hostess. She is entertaining for two debutantes at a dance of December 29 at Grasslands. The two thus entertained are youthful tokens, of the bad age, Miss Katharine Carlisle and Miss Margaret Love. I believe Miss Carlisle is daughter to Mrs. Calderine Carlisle and Miss Love the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Howe, Washingtonians all.

NOW AND AGAIN MRS. HOWE, HANDSOME AND patrician, comes into the local picture, usually as house guest of that sprightly cosmopolitan, Mrs. William Gordon Means, the now Constance Gardner, who relinquished one fine old Boston name to assume another (Miss) equally distinguished. Mrs. Howe recently is a chosen guest for the Means box at the opera, during that brief vespers when the horsehoe bursts into brilliance at Boston in its finest feathers flares complacently to the operatic masters Chicago sends on annually.

A PROPOS OF CHICAGO, IT APPEARS THAT WINDY CITY food parents are ringing in a change on the personal debauch program. Maters and paters out there, lacking a slushing bud in the family circle on whom to lavish debut attention, do the next best thing and give holiday entertainments for their sons, when those hopefuls come home from college. So, very frequently the cards go out for a dinner or a dance or a theatre party having as the honored person the son of the house, and not the daughter. Or, when there's both a girl and a boy, the parties include both. And sometimes four cousins thus are feasted.

THIS EVENING AT THE CASINO ONE OF THESE sons-and-daughters parties comes off—a dinner dance for Edward B. Smith, Harold Smith, Miss Caroline Smith and Miss Eliza Beth Smith. Just two days before Christmas the Casino was scene for a dinner dance given for two young men, Garfield King and Howard Gillette, Jr. And just the night before that there was a third dinner-dance, at the Saddle and Cycle, for Miss Winifred Wheeler, Robert Wheeler and Miss Virginia Waller. Certainly parties for the boys instead of the girls would give a fillip to the Boston season and furnish the novelty sometimes so lacking in the younger set's program.

THIS AFTERNOON "JACK AND THE BEANSTALK" IS BEING done at the Repertory to benefit Mrs. Bernard Trafford's pit charity, the Elizabeth Peabody House. And incidentally the Campfire Girls figure also. With these two organizations and their affiliations lined up a full-to-overflowing house should be the afternoon's order. Miss Katharine Warren does the "Jack" and Miss Dana Strevling the "Miss Muffin" and other parts of the Mother Goose story are in as definitely well placed competent

ALL DAY SUNDAY AND ALL DAY MONDAY, EXCEPT WHEN a girls and feasting held undivided attention from everyone, skaters flashed over the shining ice at the Country Club out of door rink. Jack Frost ever so kindly arrived just before Kris Kringle, so a dazzling surface of ice was waiting for its devotees on Xmas morning. Bright, shining morning faces were the rule. The Harold P. McNellis' two small daughters, Miss Janet and Miss Dorothy, were there in their bright checkered skating outfits. Devoted to ice skating are these two and often they take their petite and charming mother "skating" on the ice.

OIL MAN TESTIFIES IN MEXICAN DOCUMENT HEARING

once tried to sell him a confidential file of correspondence between Secretary of State Kellogg and Ambassador James R. Shannon for 1916. McLaughlin said he knew Avila very well, having met him first in 1914 through Joseph DeBourcy, Mexico City correspondent for the New York Times, who introduced him as a representative of the Havas News Agency of France.

There is a regular "traffic in documents" in Mexico, McLaughlin said. "For a price," he declared, "you can get any kind of a document you want."

SAID LANE WAS NEAR.

"Avila was notorious in Mexico as a purveyor of these documents," the witness said. "I know that of my own personal knowledge. Avila came up to my apartment one night in 1915 on a very important matter. He insisted on seeing me at once. He showed me a typewritten statement saying that all the correspondence between Secretary of State Kellogg and Ambassador Shannon would be given me for $10,000, of which $1,000 would have to be paid in cash. The statement 'the documents would be given me by Mr. Lane, First Secretary of the Embassy in Mexico City.' 'Was any name signed to that statement?'"

"No, but I understood that Mr. Lane was downstairs at that time, an automobile, waiting to carry out the deal."

QUESTIONED CLOSELY.

"Avila asked me if I couldn't go downstairs and see Mr. Lane who he said was in the automobile, and I refused."

"The next day Avila brought two photostatic copies of the same document to me and left town," said McLaughlin.

On another occasion, McLaughlin said, Avila went to him with a copy of a telegram supposed to have been sent by General Pina, under secretary of war, to the commander of a Mexican gumbat, ordering him to come to Mexico City and had to write arms and ammunition for DeBourcy to the rebels in Nicaragua.

McLaughlin added that he did not buy the document.

"Why did he bring it to you?"

"I don't know, unless he thought I would turn it over to the American embassy."

"Did he ask for money?"

"No, Avila's method was very simple, and McLaughlin said he simply showed you a photostatic copy of a document. Then he came around with a photostat. He would then bring an original. He was always broke and always asking for a few pesos."

"Can you cast any light on the genuineness of these (hearsay) documents?" asked Senator Reed of Pennsylvania.

"No, I can't," said McLaughlin. Senator Johnson (R.) of California questioned McLaughlin closely about details of McLaughlin's article on oil, which he had sought to have distributed in European newspapers through the Havas Agency.

"It was a personal article," he said. "It showed the gradual decline of oil production, despite the increase in drilling, and showed that the oil power of fields in Mexico were played out and drilling must be extended into new fields."

STARK CAME HEAL.

Johnson's further questioning brought out the fact that McLaughlin has a number of contracts with the Mexican government, and even now is negotiating over a new one involving $100,000 for building roads, the cost to be borne by a gasoline tax. Negotiations are being carried on, he said, with President Calles and the Mexican Department of Public Works.

Another contract Johnson developed by questions, involved a huge sum, and deal which fell through because McLaughlin could not raise $12,000,000 necessary to swing it.

McLaughlin said he read the Hearst article and decided "voluntarily to testify."

"What makes you say these documents listed fraudulent when you only say they were handled by Avila?" asked Reed.

"From the way the only ones I recall in doubt," said the witness. "I saw them in documents that Avila was trying to peddle. I don't recall any of them."

McLaughlin said he last saw Avila in the Mexican consulate in New York some months ago.

DESTROYERS SPEED NORTH IN HUNT FOR GRAYSON PLANE

dirigible Los Angeles covered a direct-line course from the Cape to Emerald Bank, 140 miles due west of Sable Island, Nova Scotia, the vicinity from which an "in trouble" message, purporting to have been received from the "Dawn," was sent Sunday night.

The Los Angeles had a smooth sea and excellent visibility beneath her and reached her objective at 10 p. m. without a sign of the plane.

The Los Angeles circled about Emerald Bank and pointed her nose southwest on a return flight that is expected to find her back at Lakehurst tonight. The tool a new course as she headed back in the hope of finding some trace of the plane which hopped off Friday from Eastern Point for Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, on the first leg of a transatlantic flight.

First sighted at Noboka Light-house at 10 minutes after midnight today, the Los Angeles was reported over Chatham at 1 a. m., and passed out to sea off Wolfnet at 5 a. m.

The U. S. destroyers Sturtevant and Mahan, rushed to the scene from the Boston naval district were making a search at sea in the vicinity of Sable Island this morning. The destroyers planned to circle the island in their quest before dark.

At daybreak tomorrow the destroyers will start to cover an area 50 miles south of Sable Island and an additional area to cover the probable driftage before entering the more north of the island. If the plane is to the northward it will be passing gradually beyond the fishing grounds and toward the open Atlantic.

The currents and prevailing winds at this season are from north to south.

Coast Guard Aiding

The Sturtevant today was in touch with the United States Coast Guard destroyers Shaw, Monaghan and Downes, which were co-operating with the Navy in the search. These vessels at 2 a. m. were off Cape Sable, N. S., heading outward for an intensive combing of the area between the mainland and Sable Island.

En route north the Sturtevant passed the Le Havre Banks, sighting a number of fishing vessels. "Taps" had received no report of the missing plane.

Since taking off from Roosevelt Field, Long Island, at 8 p. m. last Friday, the "Dawn," carrying Mrs. Frances Grayson and three men, has not with certainty been heard from. Their objective was Harbor Grace, Newfoundland.

The Canadian government wireless station at Sable Island announced that it had been in communication with the radio operator of the Dawn for a few moments on Sunday evening.

It was believed that the Dawn operator was sending on the emergency set from a point within 50 miles of the island, but an extensive search in the vicinity of the island failed to reveal a trace of the plane.

Today there was some doubt as to whether or not the message heard Sunday night really came from the missing plane.

Wear Special Suits

The necessity of carrying extra fuel for the long trip caused Commander Rosenbush of the Los Angeles to leave Lakehurst with a skeleton crew consisting of ten officers, twenty-six enlisted men, a surgeon and a radio expert. This is a total of only 34 men, whereas the ship generally carries more than forty.

A few civilian experts attached to the station, who had been told they might be permitted to make the trip, were left behind at the last moment because of the additional load of fuel and supplies.

Each member of the Los Angeles crew wore an electrical heater and furnished flying suit, a fur-lined helmet, and heavy fur-lined boots.

Food will be prepared in the electrically equipped galley, in which hot coffee, soup and food will be kept in readiness throughout the cruise in case the members of the Dawn crew are found alive.

If the Los Angeles cannot land, and the castaways cannot be brought aboard immediately by means of rope ladders or lines, food can be lowered in three "air" lines while the dirigible is hovering about at desired speed.

The Los Angeles was flying at an altitude of about 2,000 feet when it left the Lakehurst field, but Commander Rosenbush said he planned to fly as low as safety permits when he reached the waters over which the Dawn expected to pass.

Hunt by Searchlights

Because of a prevailing opinion that the strong westerly winds of the past few days may have forced the Dawn out to sea, Commander Rosenbush said his ship might fly considerably to the east of the amphibian's course in the hope of locating the plane aloft or getting some trace of it.

The Los Angeles was distinguishable during the night by its red and green running lights and by its illuminated gondola.

Canadian Station Sure It Got Grayson Wireless

Montreal, Que., Dec. 27 (I.N.S.).—The officer in charge of the Canadian government radio station on the rocky shores of Sable Island, 250 miles off the coast of Nova Scotia, in a wireless message to International News Service today reiterated his belief that the station had been in communication with the missing plane Dawn on Sunday night.

"The first words caught by Sable Island at 2:45 p. m. were 'Something gone wrong,' the officers wrote. 'Then came in an irregular, continuous wave of 615 metres of a very high pitch and swinging note.'

"After the three words had been caught a part of the message was missed; then came the three last letters of a word, the letters 'me,' followed by the signature, 'WU.' Nothing has been heard since that time though we have tried to establish communication, but have failed."

From Commander Edwards, head of the Federal government's wireless service at Ottawa, who from his desk is in constant touch with a score of radio outposts on the stormy North Atlantic Coast, came word that no further news of the Dawn had been heard.

Destroyers Fail to Find Trace of Grayson Plane

Halifax, N. S., Dec. 27 (I.N.S.).—No signs of the missing plane Dawn or Mrs. Frances Wilson Grayson and her three men, who had been seen by the United States destroyer Sturtevant up to 3 o'clock this morning, it was revealed in a wireless message from the vessel intercepted here.

At 8 a. m. the Sturtevant was about 25 miles west of Sable Island, where part of a message signed with the initials "W. G." was picked up late Sunday night. The United States destroyer Mahan was a short distance away from the Sturtevant.

Both vessels, which left yesterday to search between Cape Cod where the Dawn was last sighted, and Sable Island, expected to reach the vicinity of the island before darkness today.

Shaving Makes Beard
Grow No Faster, Says
Woman Doctor

Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 27 (A.P.)—The popular theory that the more a man shaves the faster his beard grows was exploded today by a woman.
Dr. Mildred Trotter, assistant professor of anatomy at Washington University, St. Louis, told suffragettes attending the convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science that the use of a razor apparently had no effect on the growth of a beard, neither was there any correlation between variations in the day's temperature and variation in the hair growth, she said.
The heads of four men gave Dr. Trotter the material for her study.

Stated flights. As he disappears over the mountains, Mrs. Lindbergh will start her return trip to her Detroit classroom in the plane which brought her here. She will stop at Tampico, San Antonio, Texas, and Indianapolis. She expects to arrive in Detroit at midnight Thursday or shortly afterwards.
Fresh strawberries, now abundant here, will be taken by Mrs. Lindbergh to Mrs. Henry Ford.

WORKMEN LAW
FUND URGED
ON STATE

Governor Fuller was urged today by a group of labor officials to recommend in his message to the Legislature establishment of a state fund to handle the workmen's compensation act.
In the labor group were President John Van Varenwyck, Vice President John Badaracco and Charles Reed, Martin T. Joyce, legislative agent and Attorney Robert Gallagher, all of the Massachusetts branch, American Federation of Labor.
Attorney-General Arthur K. Reed was present. The group estimated that attempt to bring about a state fund through an initiative petition had been blocked by the Attorney-General's office on the ground that it was excluded matter.

WHAT FILM IS THIS?

NAME THE TITLE

Generous prizes are offered in the John Gilbert "Love" contest in conjunction with the showing of his latest photoplay, "Love," at Loew's State. All you have to do is to name the title of the picture from which the scene is taken, also the name of the person appearing with Gilbert. Contestants also must include with the set of pictures a fifteen word sentence as to why they like John Gilbert.

JOHN GILBERT CONTEST OPENS

Beginning today, the Boston Evening American will conduct the John Gilbert "Love" contest in conjunction with the showing of the famous screen lover's latest photoplay offering, "Love," this week at Loew's State.
Each day, beginning today, and running through Saturday, the American will publish a photograph of Gilbert in a scene from one of his photoplays.
All that is necessary in order to win one of the many prizes is to name the title of the picture from which the scene is taken, together with the name of the person appearing with Gilbert. In addition, contestants must also include with the set of pictures a 15-word sentence as to why they like John Gilbert.
First prize will be $25; second, $15; third, $10; fourth, $5; and fifth, $3. Fifty pairs of tickets for Loew's State Theatre will be given as consolation prizes.
Replies should be sent to the John Gilbert "Love" Contest Editor, Boston Evening American, No. 5 Winter Square, Boston.
Don't send your answers until you have completed the set of five on Saturday.

TROLLEY LOCKS WITH AUTO

Trolley service on Huntington avenue was delayed in the morning rush hour today when an automobile and an inbound car collided near Wade street. The automobile was badly damaged, but the driver, Alexander R. Hill of Davis avenue, Brookline, escaped with a shaking up.
He was driving across the trolley car reservation when the accident occurred. The car was inbound for the subway from Francis street.

HARVARD GETS NEW ORBITS OF TWO COMETS

Two new orbits of the Schweinswarth and Wachmann and the 1927-Jordan comets were received by Dr. Harlow Shapley of the Harvard Astronomical Observatory today from Dr. Armin O. Leuschner of the Lick Observatory at Berkeley.

In connection with the Schweinswarth comet, director of the Harvard Observatory, announced that this comet, believed to be the star observed by the "Three Wise Men of the East" on the night about 1567 years ago, will be visible for another week, with strong glasses.

Dr. Shapley declared that the best time for observation is just before sunrise, at about 15 degrees south of the direct point.

The comet is no longer visible to the naked eye, Dr. Shapley pointed out, because the sky is luminous just before sunrise and a luminous body can scarcely be seen, especially with powerful glasses against a luminous background—or in through the luminous atmosphere that may not be background.

The Schweinswarth and Wachmann comet was discovered last November 19, by the two men of those names, from the Hamburg Observatory in Hamburg, Germany.

Director Shapley said that he will forward the information and additional data received today to the Royal Observatory of Denmark, at Copenhagen.

After receiving the new data, the Harvard director smiled and declared that the comet is a "quiet bird."

NEW OIL BILL TO END STRIFE IN MEXICO

Mexico City, Dec. 27 (A.P.)—The House of Deputies has passed the first reading of a bill and its president Calles amending articles 1 and 15 of the Mexican oil regulations, in accordance with the recent Supreme Court decision in the Mexican Petroleum Company case.

The amendment if passed by Congress would definitely remove the main objection to oil companies for oil concessions for individuals, even those that have already complied with the provisions of Article 15 and 16.

As the supreme court decision establishes the unconstitutionality of certain parts, Calles proposes this amendment.

In a note to the Deputies, Calles says the Supreme Court ruling creates an abnormal situation, the existence being unable to exist in the oil law. He says the benefit of the ruling must reach all companies as individuals, even those that have already complied with the provisions of Article 15 and 16.

As the supreme court decision establishes the unconstitutionality of certain parts, Calles proposes this amendment.

WITHOUT TIME LIMIT.

"There, to owners of concessions and refineries at present working under provisions of authorizations issued by the Government of industry, commerce and labor, and in regard to concessionaires or refineries."

"Confirmation of these rights will be granted without limitation of time, when on behalf of concessionaires and for the time mentioned in contracts reached or surface owners and other parties."

"Article 15—The term of one year is fixed from the day following the publication of this reform until the same day, inclusive, of the following year, in which must be made confirmation of the rights to which the foregoing article refers and which have not been the subject of confirmatory actions within the period fixed in this article."

"Transitory, regarding confirmation time, until within the year 1928 and in respect thereof, titles have not been issued, these shall be granted in accordance with present reform."

"In the terms of the same shall be satisfied confirmatory title already issued."

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1927

LYONNAIN FIGHTERS OLYMPIC CRUISING

New Englanders will join him in the final Olympic trials in June and probably in the games themselves in the middle distance races in the opinion of many athletic meet followers.

Several of the experts have conceded a double place win to a New Englander. They, of course, refer to Lloyd Hahn in the 800 and 1500-meter events at Amsterdam. The newcomer will not get his two first place but he is quite sure to garner at least one and he will make the bidding high in the other race.

A kid for an American in either race will mark the first triumph for a son of Uncle Sam in a flat race since the 100-meter dash of 1912 when Charles Redmond of Syracuse won the 400-meter event at the end of the first World War.

A double victory would be a rare achievement for any athlete in New England. It was the only one in the history of the Olympics.

The last time that any runner won the 800-meter race was in 1904 when Hahn won it for the United States.

is Roberto Roberti, champion of Italy who meets Jack Gagnon in the beef carnival offered by the Argonne A. A. at Mechanics Building, Friday night. Roberti will get a bout with Tom Heenehy if he can defeat Gagnon. Roberti is one of the best heavy weight prospects in the game.

Harrington Is Under Suspension
Unless He Reports to Coach Ross This Evening

TONIGHT'S HOCKEY LINEUP AT ARENA

By BILL GIMES
Due to the week's rest, Manager Ross will, for the first time in weeks, be able to show his full strength of Bruins into the conflict with the New York Rangers tonight at the Boston Arena.

This will be the third meeting of the Bruins and the Rangers. The first encounter ended in a tie at the second went to the New York outfit by a score of 3 to 2. The Bruins will go after Lester Patrick's charges from the opposition and one of the most likely faces of the season will be before the Bruins.

The game tonight was expected to present Lester "Hag" Harrington in the Bruins' line. The announcement from the first covering Harrington's case follows:

"St. Louis" Fans Better Wear Handcuffs
Determined to prevent a recurrence of the disgraceful scene which marred the last Bruins-Rangers game, President Charles J. Adams will post many guards of the law among the spectators at the Arena tonight.

Any fan who so far forgets himself as to throw missiles on the ice will be required to leave the Arena.

Shields Wins First Match From Zazella

By JACK CONWAY
Jack Shields, French Canadian, defeated Jimmy Zazella, today in a New York boxing match at Madison Square Garden on January 13.

Shields called the New York Commission the long distance runner in the boxing world.

Shields is already down to 155 pounds and he wants to be when he faces Hahn.

I have watched Hahn in his training and he looks to be in some fine condition that he was in a few months ago.

ROBERT TRAINS HERE

Hallen Heavy Makes His First Appearance in Hub at Toland's Gym

His flashy railbirds, the rail-boring fans who never overlook an opportunity for a glimpse of a fighter in his first appearance in this city will cluster around the ring-side today at Dan Toland's De Luxe Gymnasium for their initial peek at Robert J. Robert, the heavyweight champion of Italy.

For Robert, the giant son of Italy, a victory with Jack Cummings of New Bedford in the main event of the New Year's Eve fight is a victory which will make him a contender for the heavyweight title.

Robert is a native of New Bedford, and he has been in the city since he was a boy. He has been in the city since he was a boy. He has been in the city since he was a boy.

MR. BOSTON
By Jack Conway

HAVE the low down on Tom Heeney, New Zealand heavyweight, who will try to knock Jack Shacker out of the picture in New York on January 13? remarked Mr. Boston as he stepped into the office today. "I'm a little bit weary after one of those Christmas celebrations at home with the ladies and the kids," went on the veteran, "and I figured I'd come along early today."

Getting the low down on star athletes is comparatively easy compared to at home duties with a stock of holiday possibilities to juggle.

So on my way to the office I rambled around town and dug up a few facts about Heeney. Tom is an Irishman. He has spent a good part of his life in New Zealand where he has been active in sports. He started out as a football player, but later decided to become a boxer.

"My operations," as Damon Runyon would say, report that Heeney is between 29 and 31 years of age. They were unable to put him down as to his exact age. It appears that he is a beautiful specimen, somewhat sensitive about his age. They will usually turn to a sports interviewer aside with the remark, "I'm more than 21 and so you're old man."

FIND that Heeney was outstaged in a 2-round bout in foggy London by the jolly Scott, well known horizontal champion of the British Isles. One Blackie Miller also closed Heeney for a loss in the days of yore.

"Tom then began to improve as a boxer. He won several matches and Charley Harvey, importer of British heavyweights, brought him to this country. He didn't receive much of a reception here. He was a local hero, but he was not a local favorite. He was a local hero, but he was not a local favorite.

Early Athletic Training Urged

New York, Dec. 27 (AP)—Athletic training for college students is being urged by the National Athletic Union. The union says that the best way to prevent injuries is to start training early. The union says that the best way to prevent injuries is to start training early.

PITTSBURGH PANTHERS OFF FOR BATTLE ON COAST

Pittsburgh, Dec. 27.—Feeling fit and confident, the football squad of the University of Pittsburgh has started its long trek to the Pacific Coast and the New Year's Tournament of Roses game at Pasadena. Calif. Stanford University, coached by Glen (Pop) Warner, ex-Panther member, will carry the colors of the West into the battle, set for Jan. 2. The Eastern representatives, one of the foremost athletes to 1927 Eastern grid honors, with only one exception, are athletes of the perfect record of victories, were 14 during their careers.

TELLING THEM SO—QUIETLY
BUT FIRMLY.

The main reason why we are pliable, tolerant and accommodating when we're young is that we'll get a swift kick if we aren't. Popular

Allah grant that it may never removed from mine! May humans laugh at me and with me until I end! May it snuff at my opinion and make me fight for my convictions as it does now! May I pass the middle of some good scrap awake to a better one!

Dreama, books, are each a world:
 and books, we know,
 Are a substantial world, both pure and good.
